REVIEW OF NSW ELECTORAL DISTRICTS

Dear Electoral Commission

Why is it that country people are the ones that miss out, when it comes in the review of our electoral boundaries?

It was just a few years ago that we had a review in March 2015, we were known as the Murrumbidgee electoral, we went to a compact area to an area that covers a large area, that includes a lot of little towns, Booligal, Hillston, Roto up north, Conargo down south, Griffith, Leeton, Binya, are on the edge of the boundary and across to south Australia Wentworth Shire, the area comprise a distance of 1,07362.2 square kilometres, and the seat of Murray has a 500- kilometre boundary with Victoria, and is the 2nd largest electoral in NSW.

We country people are been discriminated against on account of our large area that we live in, the distance we have to travel for hospital, doctors, accounts, big stores like Woolworth, Coles and Bunnies, where city people have different interests then country people, city people they can drive or walk to their electoral member office, as country people have to drive many miles to see our elective member.

We country people are been discriminated by the distance we have to travel, country people are been discriminated by one vote one value that covers a large area compared to our city cousin they can drive or walk to their member office, we do not need a large area for our member of Murray to cover to the Queensland boarder.

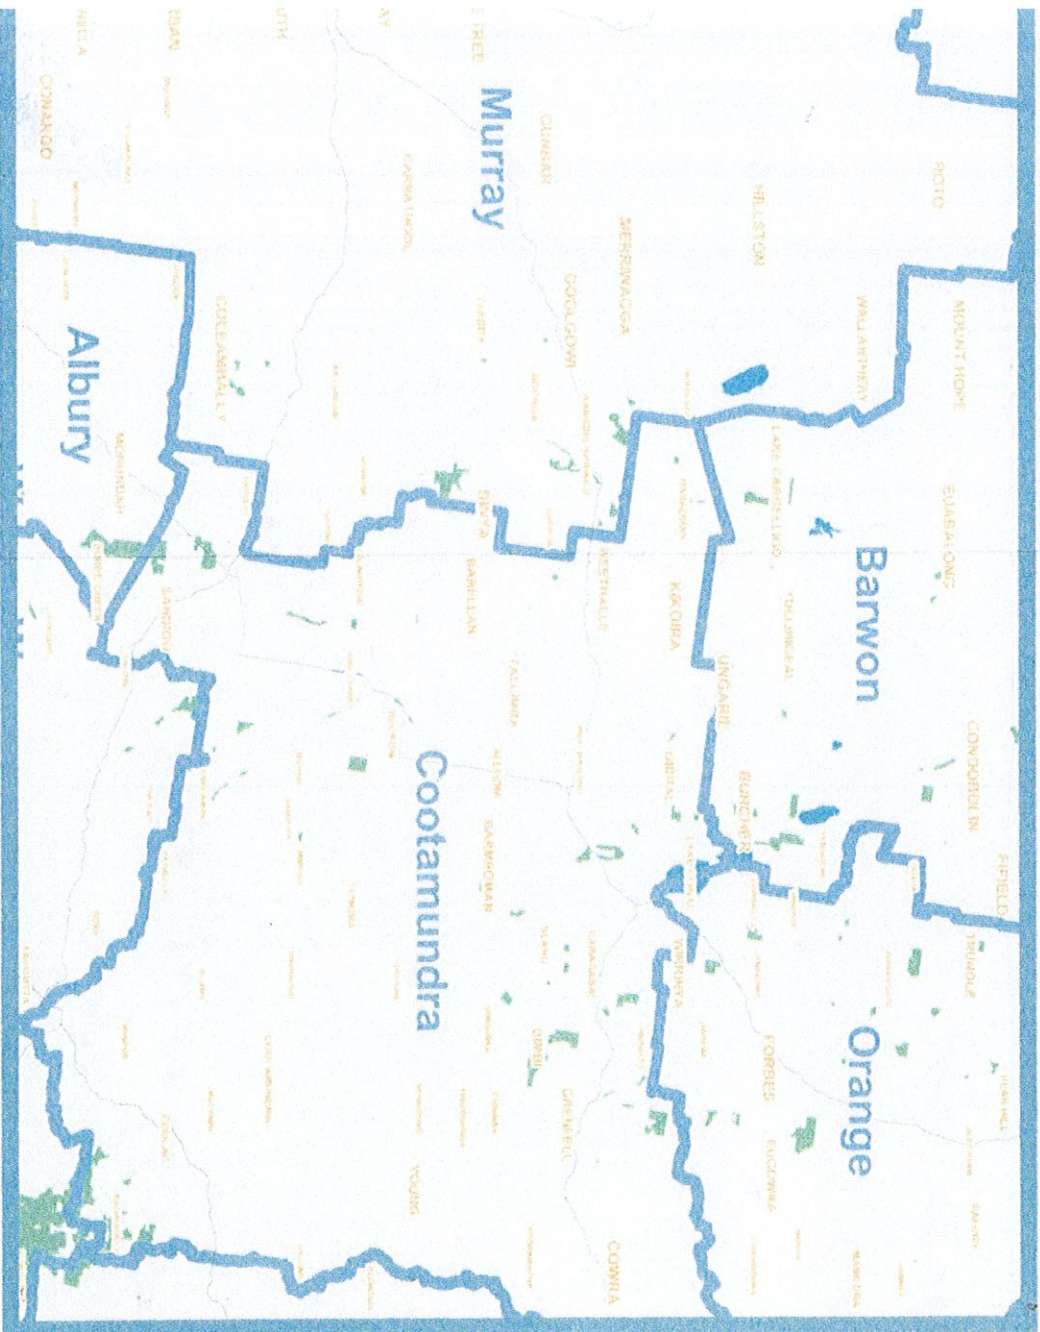

Yours Sincerely
